

3 GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Facilities for mummies

At our university, we recognize the importance of supporting students who are also parents. We understand that coping with the responsibilities of academics and parenting can be challenging, which is why we have implemented a unique initiative called the "Parent and Child's Room."

The Parent and Child's Room is designed specifically to cater to the needs of students with children who require special attention and care. This facility serves as a safe and comfortable space where parents can attend classes, study, and engage in university activities while ensuring their child's well-being.

Healthcare services

The Parent and Child's Room, our university goes above and beyond to support students with children by offering free healthcare services. We understand that the well-being of both the student and their child is of utmost importance, and we strive to provide comprehensive care and guidance.

Our healthcare services include access to highly experienced nurses who specialize in pediatric care. These nurses are available to provide valuable advice, answer questions, and address any concerns that parents may have regarding their child's health and well-being. Whether it's a common cold, nutrition advice, or developmental milestones, our nurses are there to offer support and guidance.

Healthcare center authorities

At our university, we take pride in prioritizing the well-being of our students. One way we demonstrate this commitment is by providing free healthcare services to all enrolled students. We understand that maintaining good health is crucial for academic success, and we want to ensure that our students have access to the care they need. Our healthcare services are staffed by a team of highly qualified nurses and doctors who are always available to attend to the medical needs of every student.
